❖ Write a Cinquain:

The word cinquain comes from the Latin root for “five.” Notice that the cinquain has five lines that follow this sequence:

Line A: One vague or general one-word subject or topic

Line B: Two vivid adjectives that describe the topic

Line C: Three interesting -ing action verbs that fit the topic

Line D: Four-word phrase that captures feeling about the topic

Line E: A very specific term that explains Line A

For Example:

Insect
Hidden, hungry
Preening, searching, stalking
Waits as if praying
Mantis

Muhammad (SAW)

What a year was 570 AD          A person was born, a prophet to be          Muhammad (SAW) that was his name          People were misguided and that's when he came          He would go on to leave all the idols behind          He is an example to all of mankind Rabbi al Awwal the 12th, that was the day          He came to this world to show us the way          He was born in Mecca, the holiest place          A life full of challenges he was to face          Abdullah (ra) his father, had by then passed away          Leaving Amina (RA) his mother, in her arms he lay Halima Sadia, took over his care          Until he was six, our prophet was there          His mother then died, he was left all alone          Abdul Muttalib (RA) his grand-father then made          him his own          When our prophet was nine, his grandfather died          Abu Talib, his uncle, became his new guide In his 20's, a merchant Muhammad (SWT) became          by trade          Al-Amin, (the trustworthy) became his grade          Hazrat Khadija (RA) aged 40, became his bride          He was 25, with her by his side To the poor, she gave away all her wealth          A dedicated wife in sickness and health 360 idols in the Kaaba, they were at that time          Our prophet realized that this was a crime          He would go to mount Hira, leaving behind his          wife          Reflecting and wondering about the meaning of life While thinking there in the midst of the night          He heard a loud voice which filled him with fright          It was the angel Gibrail(AS) who asked him to read          Our prophet couldn't and didn't take heed          The angel embraced him and then asked him later          Read, Read in the name of the Creator          Who created man from a drop of blood	Our prophet couldn't read but at that time he could          Our prophet rushed to the path straight ahead          He heard a voice from the heavens which said          Muhammad (SAW) truly you are the messenger of          Allah(SWT)          Muhammad (SAW) was scared and thought this          quite odd          'Praise be to Allah(SWT)' his wife said instead          "I know you've been chosen as Allah (SWT)'s          messenger' she said          And thus Khadija (RA) became the first woman of          Islam And over the next 23 years came the revelation, the          Quran          He preached to all people, every creed every race          Yet so many hardships he had to face          There were fears for his life, then the Hijrat took          place          He then entered Medina, all by Allah's grace          He was greeted by the Ansaris who gave their          salaam          To him and his companions, the Sahaba Ikram Then came the battles, which were fought face to          face          Then the conquest of Mecca, Muhammad (SAW)'s          birthplace          An Nasr was revealed, it's message was clear          Muhammad (SAW) knew that his time was near          Everyone gathered to hear his last speech          little did they know how far Allah's message          would reach Muhammad (SAW) gave us the miracle the Quran          And now a 1/4 of the world follow Islam          He is our role-model, the best of mankind          And has left the Quran and his Sunnah behind Read the Quran as much as you can          The words of Allah (SWT) for the guidance of man          And follow our prophet's sunnah, when eating and          dressing          And send him salutations and many a blessing          He came to mankind to show us the way          And Insha-Allah, we'll meet him, we'll meet him          one day

All the World is a Stage (By William Shakespeare)

All the world's a stage,          And all the men and women merely players;          They have their exits and their entrances,          And one man in his time plays many parts,          His acts being seven ages. At first, the infant,          Mewling and puking in the nurse's arms.          Then the whining schoolboy, with his satchel          And shining morning face, creeping like snail          Unwillingly to school. And then the lover,          Sighing like furnace, with a woeful ballad          Made to his mistress' eyebrow. Then a soldier,          Full of strange oaths and bearded like the pard,          Jealous in honor, sudden and quick in quarrel,          Seeking the bubble reputation	Even in the cannon's mouth. And then the justice,          In fair round belly with good capon lined,          With eyes severe and beard of formal cut,          Full of wise saws and modern instances;          And so he plays his part. The sixth age shifts          Into the lean and slipper's pantaloon,          With spectacles on nose and pouch on side;          His youthful hose, well saved, a world too wide          For his shrunk shank, and his big manly voice,          Turning again toward childish treble, pipes          And whistles in his sound. Last scene of all,          That ends this strange eventful history,          Is second childishness and mere oblivion,          Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything.

Eight Things to Learn

One time a scholar asked one of his students, "You have spent a long time with me, what have you learned?"

He said I learned eight things:

First, I looked to the creation. Everyone has a loved one. When he goes to the grave, he leaves his loved one. Therefore, I made my loved one my good deeds; that way, they will be with me in the grave.

Second, I looked to the verse, "But as for him who feared to stand before his Lord and restrained his soul from lust," therefore, I struggled against my desires so I could stay obeying Allah.

Third, I saw that if anyone has something with him that is worth something, he will protect it. Then I thought about the verse, "That which you have is wasted away; and that which is with Allah remains," therefore, everything worth something with me I devoted to Him so it would be with Him for me.

Fourth, I saw the people seeking wealth, honor and positions and it was not worth anything to me. Then I thought about Allah's words, "Lo, the noblest of you in the sight of Allah is the most aware of Allah, so I did my best to become aware of Allah in order to gain nobility in his sight.

Fifth, I saw the people being jealous towards each other and I looked at the verse, "We have apportioned among them their livelihood in the life of the world", so I left jealousy.

Sixth, I saw the people having enmity and I thought about the verse, "Lo, the devil is an enemy for you, so take him as an enemy", so I left enmity and I took the Satan as my only enemy.

Seventh, I saw them debasing themselves in search of sustenance and I thought about the verse, "And there is not a beast in the earth but the sustenance thereof depends on Allah", so I kept myself busy with my responsibilities toward Him and I left my property with Him.

Eighth, I found them relying on their business, buildings and health and I thought about the verse, "And whosoever puts his trust in Allah, He will suffice him", therefore, I put my trust only on Allah.

If you want the Rainbow, you got to put up with the rain....
